

foodinc

food industry consultants

foodinc is a group of independent food technology consultants, operating since 1997. All members are highly respected experts in their own right. For clients large or small they offer a wide variety of expertise in all food industry sectors. All consultants operate to a strict code of ethics, and confidentiality is guaranteed.

foodinc is pleased to introduce Lesley Steeples as their newest member. Lesley's experience strengthens the services foodinc offers. Lesley has over 30 years experience with major food companies in New Zealand and Australia. She is a pioneer of enterprise risk, quality management programmes and business continuity.

Lesley Steeples
has recently joined foodinc

foodinc consultants can help you, individually or as a group:

- Design and improve product formulations and production processes
- Set up and maintain Food Control Plans and Risk Management Programmes
- Advise on label declarations, nutrition panels and health claims
- Analyse food safety, cost structures and business risks
- Manage projects to improve product quality and extend shelf life

foodinc has a strategic alliance with the FOODBOWL and can support clients who are considering using this facility.

Visit the website and take a look at the wide range of services on offer. Read the profiles of the foodinc consultants, and make contact.

foodinc – your choice of independent food industry experts:
– Anny Dentener-Boswell, David Bayliss, David Pooch, Gary Broome, Jan Wuis, Laurence Eyres, Lesley Steeples, Marion Cumming, Martyn Atack, Tanya Reid, Wolfgang Hiepe.